DONALD K. PHILLIPS

To the Class of 1947:

In the years of study and sport, work and play which have led up to this eventful time in your school life, you have undoubtedly looked forward to the winning of a high school diploma as a goal to be achieved. In one sense, graduation is a goal, but in another sense it is but the threshold of newer and more meaningful experiences than you have ever known. It is not so much an ending as it is a beginning. Some of you will begin a new phase of formal, but nonetheless real education in the practical business of earning a living. All of you, however, will have opportunity to apply to your coming experiences the skills, knowledges, and amenities of life that you have learned in these years of schooling. While the possession of skills and information may serve your immediate needs, I would suggest that an ever-growing understanding of the great basic truths of life that have undergirded your teaching will prove of greater and more permanent value. As you leave Rutland High School, may these same truths abide with you and serve as beacons to light your way. As the great apostle Paul so clearly put it:

"Study to show thyself approved unto God, a workman that needeth not to be ashamed, rightly dividing the word of truth."

DONALD K. PHILLIPS,
Superintendent of Schools.

Principal of Rutland High School
ARTHUR M. GUILD

YOU ARE NEEDED

To be aware that your best efforts are sorely needed by the world today must serve as a challenge and an inspiration to you. True, you are standing on the shoulders of the generations before you who have accomplished great deeds, especially in technological discoveries. Do not discount the achievements of the past. However, mankind has more crucial problems to solve in the way of living together in harmony on this increasingly crowded planet. Again and again we are reminded by daily events that man must solve many economic, political, and social problems to avoid catastrophe.

The major share of your time will, of necessity, be devoted to supplying the material needs of life in our highly competitive age. You can contribute greatly by the manner in which you discharge these necessary duties. Perhaps you can contribute even more by unselfish participation in those civic and social enterprises for which no monetary reward is offered.

It should give you satisfaction to know that your services are gravely needed. I can conceive of no greater disaster that might befall graduates than for them to believe that the work of the world was completed and it was their privilege to merely enjoy the fruits of conquest.

May you each in your individual way contribute your share toward the enrichment and betterment of human society. Remember that some day some one must stand upon your shoulders.

ARTHUR M. GUILD,
Principal of High School.

Student Council

This year, the Student Council, under the leadership of Nick Garafano and guidance of Mr. Howard Douglas, upheld its record of leadership and service to the school.

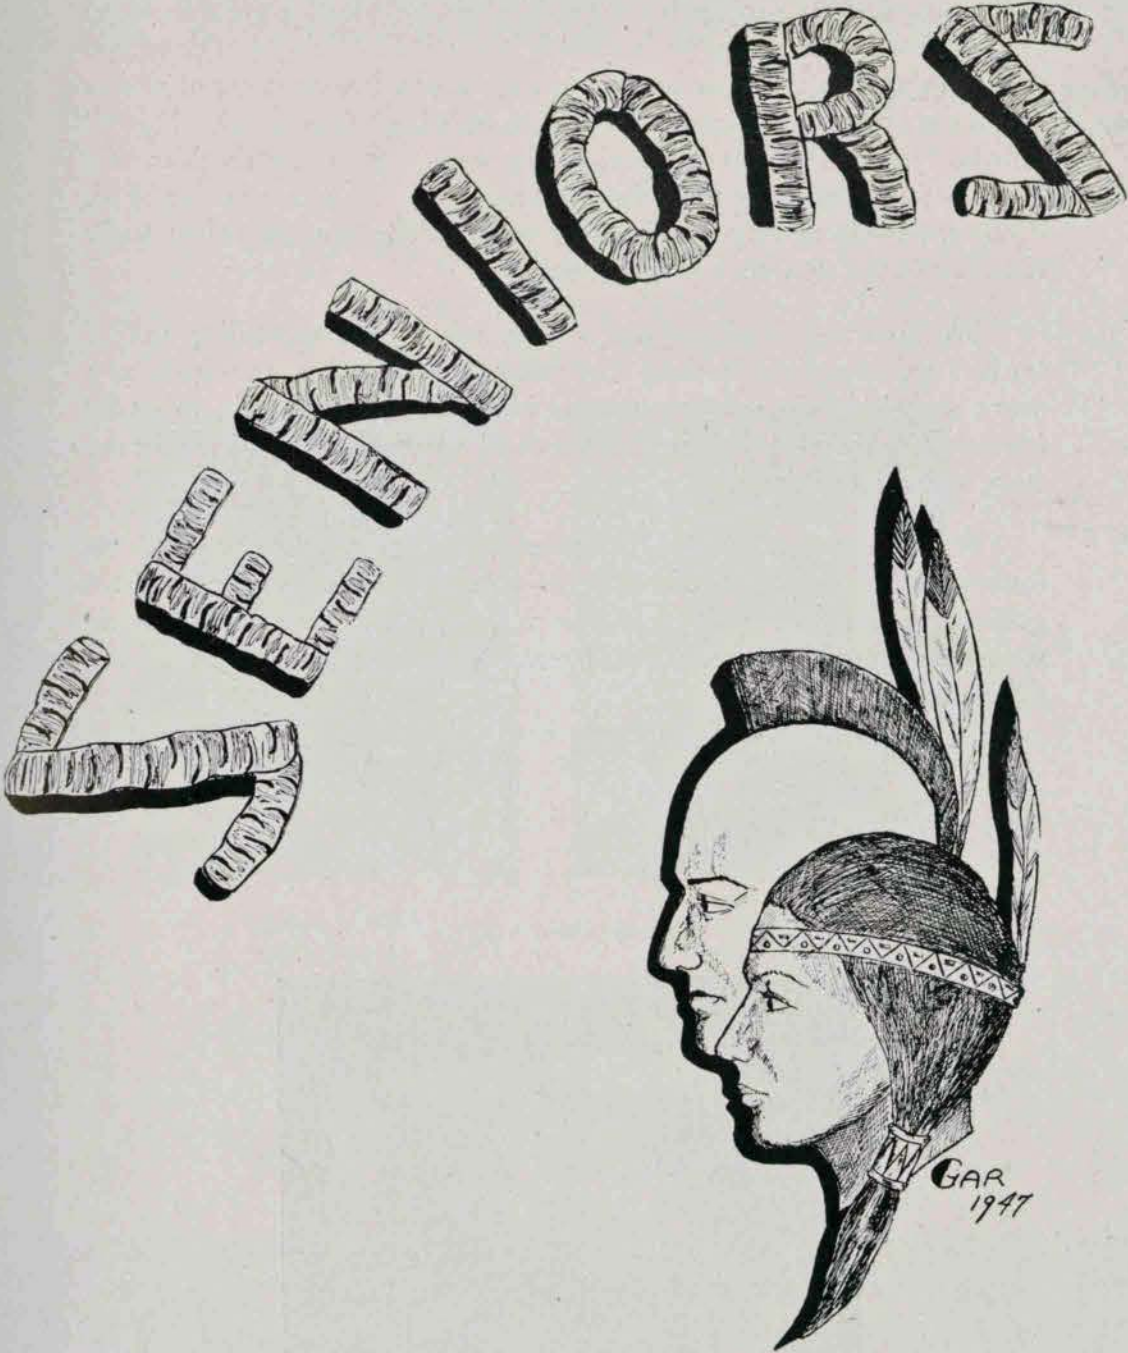

One of the most popular accomplishments of the year was the organizing, in cooperation with the Varsity Club, of the after-game dances. These proved very successful.

The council renovated the old ship early in the year and christened it the "E. F. Ireland." It was awarded to room 103 at the end of the first semester.

Changes were also made in the constitution, and the Latin, French, and Science Clubs were admitted to the council.

Officers for the year were:

President	NICK GAROFANO
Vice President	RALPH SHANGRAW
Secretary-Treasurer	MARGERY PERKINS

President's Address

We, as seniors of Rutland High School, shall soon be graduated into a complex society. We shall enter this society in its most critical period—the period of indecision. We have been destined to decide whether there will be world peace or world destruction. We may either sow the seeds for human annihilation or accept the titanic task of rehabilitating the war devastated nations into a brotherly, democratic way of life. Being Americans, we unhesitatingly accept the latter and will be as determined to attain our objectives of this day as our forefathers were to achieve their “certain unalienable rights.” This will not be an easy task, however, nor does it rest on the shoulders of a few. It will require the whole-hearted support of each and every one of us. If our efforts are unsuccessful, it is not inconceivable that our failure might terminate in the total destruction of humanity.

We have been well prepared for our role by the outstanding staff of teachers and advisers in Rutland High School who have not regarded us as a means of their subsistence, but rather as individuals. They have been vitally interested in each of us and they have realized a personal satisfaction from our every new accomplishment.

We are proud to have been their students and to have composed the Rutland High School Class of 1947. As a direct result of their constructive guidance, and concrete support, our class will leave a fine record of scholastic achievements and athletic accomplishments, which our successors will find difficult to excel.

Class History

Now that we have completed our four years of study with success, let us look back to that first year, September, 1943, when we, as a class of one hundred and fifty-nine entered Rutland High School as freshmen.

To the upperclassmen we were a group of "green horns," unacquainted with each other and our new teachers. For the most part, we were a bit frightened at the new routine which lay before us, but before long we became accustomed to our new life and easily followed the regular schedule of routine and activity.

Our formal reception into the high school came when we made our first social appearance at the Freshman Reception, accompanied by doughnuts and cider. It was at this event that we began to appreciate and enjoy the values of the R. H. S. social activities.

Remember the first football game of the season and how we memorized the school cheers so as to be able to cheer our team to victory?

At last our class when we had achieved sufficient unity to function as a class practiced democracy by selecting our class leaders. We elected the following officers: President, James Ross; Vice President, Ted Corsones; and Secretary-Treasurer, Anne Preston.

As freshmen we entered many extra-curricular activities. Our busy school life included clubs, football, field hockey, and other sports. Anne Preston, Lorraine Bleickhardt, and Arlene Osgood were elected to the cheer-leading squad. Three of our class members were chosen to serve on the Red and White staff: Don Sherburne, William Wild, and Geraldine Phillips.

On that crisp September morning in 1944 we returned to school as full-fledged sophomores. What an eventful year! We had mounted a second rung on the ladder of education and another step nearer our goal, which is now too near graduation. The destinies of our class were ably guided by Ted Corsones, president; Nick Garofano as vice president; and Anne Preston as secretary-treasurer. We enthusiastically attended the dances, plays, and social activities staged by the upperclassmen. Athletics again captured our attention, as well as clubs, band and orchestra. Audrey Perkins, Marion Walker, and Shirley Smith were chosen as drum majorettes. Nick Garofano, Lorraine Bleickhardt, and Dick Paul were added to the staff of the Red and White.

The highlight of our junior year was the Junior prom with "Maytime" as its theme. Tom Smith as chairman and his able committee made it one of the merriest and most successful events that the school witnessed. The Junior Bazaar with Pat Galarneau and Nick Garofano as co-chairmen was a financial success for our class. Again this year the class was headed by Ted Corsones, with Nick Garofano and Anne Preston assisting. Judith Andrews, Audrey Perkins, Larry Duval, and Donald Sherburne were inducted into the National Honor Society. Jane Rudin was the recipient of a University of Vermont literary award. William Wild was elected editor of the Red and White and Geraldine Phillips became associate editor.

At the last assembly of that year, the Monitor Squad was chosen by the faculty and Thomas Rooney was elected its president.

During the summer of that year, seven girls represented R. H. S. at Girls' State Session held at Montpelier, while seven boys attended Boys' State at Northfield.

At last as seniors, one hundred and thirty of us returned in September, of 1946. We donned our robes of sophistication and tolerance. Everyone seemed to realize that a great responsibility had to be taken over by the seniors and that we should be an example and a credit to the school. Among us we found a number of veterans from all branches of the service who returned to complete a chapter of their education. It was really amazing the way the vets became actively and enthusiastically a part of our class. With the able assistance of Mr. Guild, the faculty members, and students, the vets had no trouble in adjusting themselves to their old school routine once again.

At the first senior meeting, Ted Corsones was elected class president for the third time. Tom Smith, Pat Galarneau, and Lorraine Bleickhardt served as vice president, secretary, and treasurer, respectively.

It was followed by the Freshman Reception at which we welcomed the freshmen. The incoming students were most congenial and at the dance in their honor, they lacked the air of shyness that freshmen usually present.

The political world saw Nick Garofano elected president of the Student Council. Shirley Smith was elected editor of The Talisman and John Markham, business manager. Esther Hale was elected Good Citizenship Girl of Rutland High School.

The dramatic ability of our class was exhibited in our senior play "Best Foot Forward" with Judith Andrews and Paul Stevens playing the leading roles and Earle Fredette as business manager.

How proud we all felt when we were able to wear our black onyx class rings!

We began to look forward to graduation and elected chairmen for Senior Week activities. Those elected were: Charles Wiley, Baccalaureate; John Ferraro, Ivy Planting; Bill Quinn, Class Night; Earle Fredette, Senior Reception; and Judith Andrews, Commencement.

Our basketball season was very exciting and successful. Our quintet won twenty-five of the twenty-seven games played. How thrilled we all were when our boys won the Vermont State Basketball Championship in Burlington and when Johnny Ferraro, Dick Laird, and Joe Davine were selected to the All-State Basketball Team. Remember the grand send-off we gave our boys to Boston where they showed their ability by entering the New England Tournament in the Boston Gardens? We'll never forget the thrilling game played there in a "sudden death" period.

We were all excited but not surprised when the high honors went to Judith Andrews as Valedictorian and Donald Sherburne as Salutatorian, as a result of their high scholastic standing during their four years.

In the middle of April the National Honor Society held its impressive induction ceremony and received into membership Lorraine Bleickhardt, Ted Corsones, Tom Rooney, and William Wild.

And thus ends our senior year. Time has sped swiftly as it has a habit of doing. Now we become history and the class of 1948 steps into our footsteps and prepares to carry on. These four years have stimulated our enthusiasm and determination to forge ahead, so that through our progress we may reflect credit upon our beloved school, our parents, and ourselves, to make this world a better place in which to live.

GERALDINE PHILLIPS

NEWSCAST: John A. Taylor has succeeded "Henry J. Taylor" over station W. H. Y. in bringing the news every once in a while from a different kingdom each time he is on the air. His last program came from Russia. His sponsors are beginning to worry. It's been three months since he signed off.

BOSTON: Dick Hamilton is running a "Kangaroo Taxi Service" in that teeming city. His cabs, unlike others, really hop over all obstacles, the same as their namesake.

CHICAGO: Shirley Smith is director of a school for majorettes, and from her I find out business is still in a whirl. May her success continue to go round and round.

THE ARTS: Gloria LaFrancois long known for having a good head on her shoulders is renting it out to art schools throughout the country, and at a neat profit, too.

KAISER WORKS: Newly-elected plant manager, Walt Holden, is tired of making cars, but admits he will continue to do so. There will be one improvement on the new models (1957). A fox tail will be placed on the front—to give the pedestrians a chance.

HUNT'S HOT HOUSE: Fern Gragen, now secretary in that odorous business, has been taking an inventory of rose petals. I hope they won't have to call the "White Coats."

GENERAL ELECTRIC COMPANY: Hugh Weir has climbed until he has become head of the Discharge Division of Plant No. 16. Being a crack shot, it's his duty to make sure worn-out light bulbs are destroyed. It would seem that with a little effort he could attain even a higher goal in the business.

PORT SHERRY: George Severance, now located in this California village, is cultivating vineyards on a grand scale. He says the idea was suggested by the late W. C. Fields.

RUTLAND: Marilyn Smith is still undecided as to what she will do in the field of careers. Possibly hers is still in the making, or, even better yet, she is waiting for a teaching berth in Dartmouth.

NEW YORK: The former Joy Frisch, voted one of the ten best-dressed women of 1957, is frequently seen photographed in the pages of Vogue and Harpers' Bazaar with her two charming children.

TURKEY: Pat Galarneau of rising music fame is again studying, this time in the capital of Turkey, no less. Having grown tired of the piano, she has taken up the piccolo.

WORLD OF ENTERTAINMENT: Marion Robinson, apparently loaded with hidden talent, has taken advantage of being willed Evelyn's Magic Violin, and, with the aid of a cobra quartet and a dancing goldfish, is packing them in.

HOLLYWOOD: Lillian Hoyt, having turned to manicuring, is working in a Hollywood Beauty Shop. Recently she received her greatest thrill when Mortimer Snerd came in for a complete overhaul.

TRANSPORTATION: Elaine Hamel is working on the Atchison, Topeka and Santa Fe. Lorraine Fredette, having completed a course in voice culture, is now employed at Grand Central. From eight to twelve she calls over the loud speaker—"Train now leaving for Hackensack, Anaheim, Mazooza, Poughkeepsie, and all points to nowhere."

AND NOW GOOD NIGHT TO YOU, ONE AND ALL.

Mr. Fontaine Slews will be back tomorrow night to bring you the news of everyday people everywhere. This program was sponsored by Bobby's Blue Booties. This is W. B. T. O. signing off for the night.

Class Will

We, the seniors in the class of 1947 at Rutland High School, exhausted by twelve years of hard labor, but still ready to build a better tomorrow, do hereby make this our last will and testament.

WENDELL DAVIS, first of all, would like to leave to the senior class, all the name cards he had left over. "It's like this," said Wendy, "You just gotta give 'em away."

DONALD SHERBURNE leaves his place on the honor roll to Joan Mintzer who, we know, will keep up the good work.

SHIRLEY TODRIFR wills to the school library the collection of poems that have been written about her during the year. What a popular kid!

THEODORE CORSONES gladly wills the student body one of his class pictures so they won't all have to crowd in front of Miner's window to look.

JOANNE BUTTLES leaves her title of "Miss Delaware Water Gap" to any girl who thinks she deserves it or can make out what it's for.

BARBARA FREDETTE and ARLENE OSGOOD will some extra positions in their West Rutland square dance sets to any gal who thinks she's square enough to try it.

ESTHER HALE leaves some helpful hints on how to carry on extra curricular activities. From her experience in the grandstands at Senior Play practices she ought to be an authority.

LOUIS WARDEN leaves everyone wondering why the coal miners in Scranton play tiddley winks with manhole covers on rainy nights.

JEAN GERMAN wills (as much as she hates to) her prized collection of wood-pussies. Skunks to you.

PAUL FULLER wills to the school his cat Frankie. This kitty will be of much help to the janitor as he has an ability for stoking furnaces—or so "Foo" tells us.

LARRY CASEY bequeaths to next year's class-prophet all the headaches and writer's cramps that he didn't use in writing this year's class prophecy.

WARREN HOADLEY leaves his cozy back seat in English with much regret.

OFELIA GARCIA leaves with a fond, "Adios" to everyone.

THOMAS SMITH wills to any undiscovered songbird his book "Learn to Sing." He guarantees that after finishing the course you will be able to sing "Huggin' and a-Chalkin'."

CARLETON LAIRD leaves the school the basketball with which he made the winning basket in the tournament.

JOYCE GILBERT and MARILYN WARD leave a few inches of their height to Myrna Monahan and Marilyn Dorion so they can put away their spikes.

RICHARD FREGOSI leaves a number of enrollment blanks for membership in the "Automobile, Roll 'Em Over Club."

RAMONA JENNESS, BEVERLY TAYLOR and EUNICE MARTIN leave their jobs in downtown stores to next year's salesmanship students.

BEATRICE YOUNG and JOYCE STRATTON will all the extra hours they didn't use doing homework this year. What school did they go to?

MARILYN CARLISLE leaves her place in math class with regret. After all she was the only female in that block.

WILLIAM WILD leaves his position as editor of the Red and White. Never fear, though; he has Mary Jean Burr well trained. To take his position, that is.

RALPH SEWARD, GORDON JOHNSON and WILFRED SHACKETT leave all the parts they forgot to put back in the automobiles they worked on to the shop.

DEANE COOK wills to any rugged girl her position on the Forest Street Football Team.

JACK JONES leaves his marvelous dancing ability to any "hep cat."

JOHN KELLY wills his glasses. He doesn't need them anymore as he just couldn't see going to school!!!

WILLIAM BIDGOOD leaves his door key to "Richard" so he will be able to open the door himself.

MARY BEAUCHAMP leaves her friendly smile to some lucky Junior girl.

EARL FREDETTE leaves his mating whistle to Cal Atwood for use at basketball games next year.

BARBARA FLANDERS leaves her typewriter to the typing room gladly. Are you sure it was the machine, Barb?

SHIRLEY WOLINSKY leaves to anyone who gets bored in library some of her bright colored dresses to look at.

PHYLLIS KNAPP leaves us some good suggestions for reading material to last us through the summer.

KENNETH FREDETTE leaves his red sweater. You know, THE RED SWEATER!

THEODORA GROVER wills to the school a box of Duz. She really believes that Duz does everything.

ROBERT ROMANO leaves his title of "Drummer Boy" to Robert Noble.

AL BUMPS wills enough money so that trolley lines may be built for all commuters.

BILL QUINN leaves slips that can be exchanged for the book he intends to write on "How to Whistle."

TOM ROONEY wills his outstanding leadership ability to the next home room president of Room 103.

ALDEN ATWOOD leaves Miss Moran wondering how he passes all those notes so cleverly in Sociology.

CORLISS MCKENZIE leaves his nickname "Bug" to anyone who wants it. He doesn't think it's exactly the name to take out into the world with him.

SHIRLEY FERGUSON leaves a promise that she will get us all the tickets for West-side games that we want.

KENNETH DURLING wills his copy of "Pioneers." He has his solo learned for speech choir now. It was, "Holding Single."

MARIE RICHARDS leaves all her unfinished homework. She doesn't care who takes it.

RICHARD BLONGY leaves his Second Year Latin book. Enough said.

ROBERT KINGSBURY leaves his yodeling talent to any future entertainer on the football team bus.

GEORGE BRAVES leaves his gorgeous head of black hair to some Junior boy who is interested in being fascinating.

PAUL STEVENS gives his pen name "Pablo" back to Jack Edgerton where he got it.

JANE RUDIN leaves everyone a picture of her black angora cat. On the back it says, "Isn't he beautiful?"

FRANCEIS BENWARE leaves her voice to the Glee Club as they wouldn't be able to get along without it. Come to think of it, how will she?

ROBERT SEAGER leaves the remains of the nerve tonic he didn't use in giving oral reports.

MARY SMITH wills her book that tells how to train dogs. For results ask her dog, "Swedie Pooch."

AUDREY PERKINS wills her baton to any future twirler at R. H. S.

"BEV" ELLWOOD leaves her place in speech choir to Mary Blais.

MARTHA JOHNSON and LOIS CHADBURN leave us one last look at their gorgeous red tresses.

GERALDINE PHILLIPS and CHARLOTTE SMITH leave their very efficiently-filled positions on the Monitor Squad, thankful for the times for extra drinks of water between classes.

ROBERT EATON leaves his walk to any beautiful girl who is interested in becoming a Powers Model.

ROBERT HENRICHON wills his seat in McClallen's to anyone who cares to take it for the same weekly rent he paid.

JOSEPH DANSRO leaves to anyone who plans a trip to Boston his road map with all corrections made.

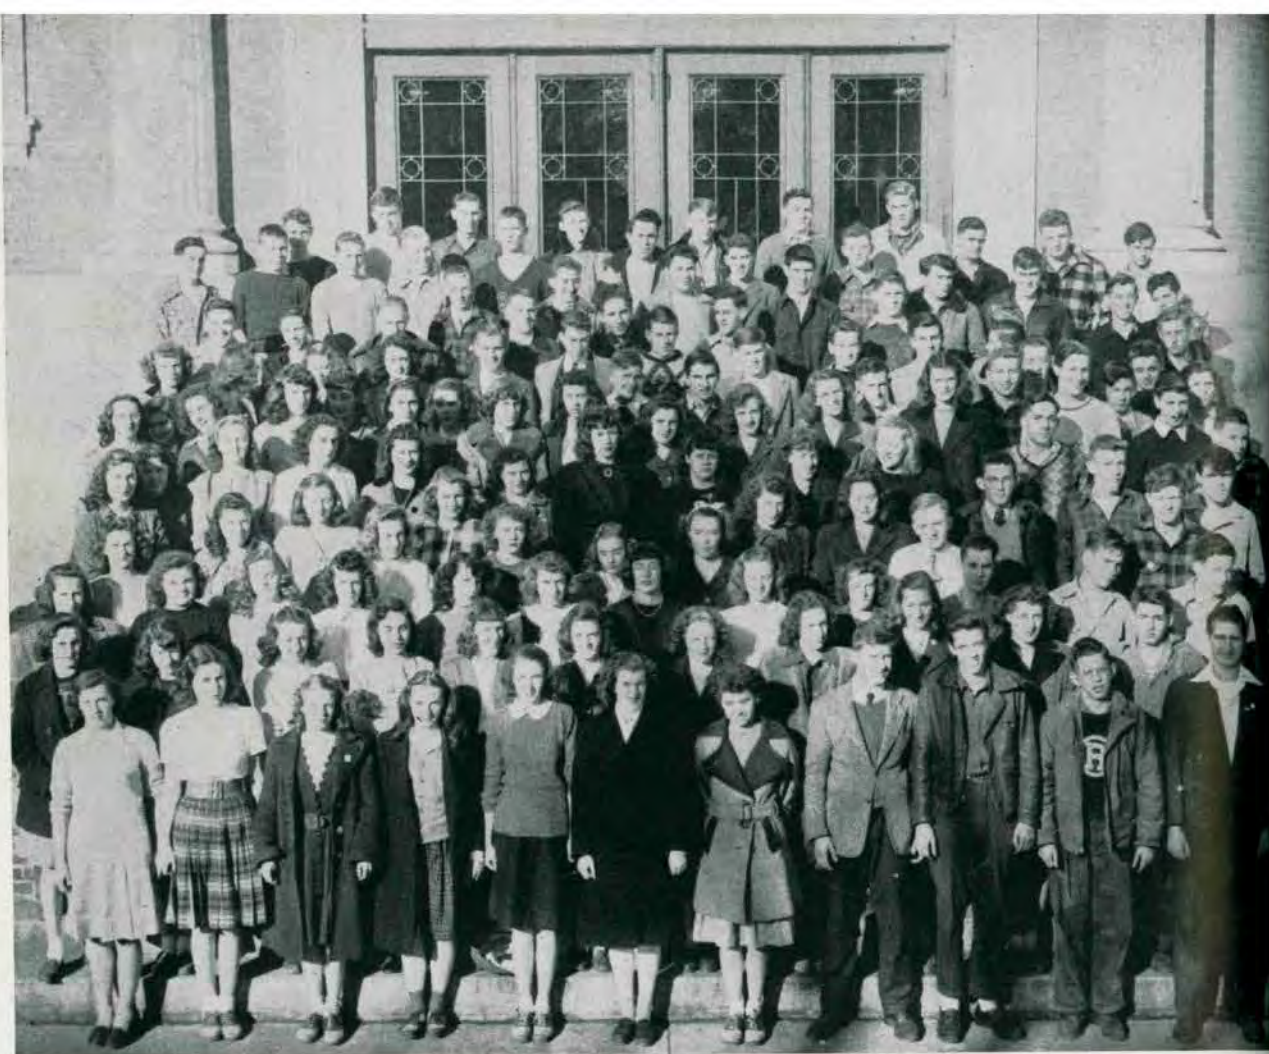

The author of this brilliant masterpiece would like to leave the school her two gremlins, Nicodemous and Ebenezer. They will be helpful, as they can do anything imaginable. She asks only that they be well taken care of.

In witness thereof on this twenty-fourth day of March in the year of our Lord 1947 and in the world of gremlins 3000, I have this day caused my signature to be affixed hereunto to the Last Will and Testament of the Class of 1947. May they never be forgotten.

Red and White

The Red and White, for the past year, has been under the editorship of William Wild.

During the year, twenty-three four-page issues were published and two six-page issues. The Christmas issue was printed in color.

One of the most interesting events of the year was the tryout season, when tryouts read, studied, and finally wrote the type of articles in which they were most interested. This period was conducted under the supervision of the faculty adviser, Miss Madeline Buttles.

Staff meetings were held from time to time to discuss possible improvements for both members of the business and editorial boards. The tryout season was especially beneficial to the latter, enabling the paper to support itself without the aid of some social function.

Cooperation among the staff members has resulted in a successful year for the Red and White.

Cheerleaders

This year our cheerleaders were a very active and impressive group. Under the co-captainship of Anne Preston and Lorraine Bleickhardt, they cheered at all our home games and at several of those played out-of-town.

The climax of the cheering season came with the State Tournament and the surprise trip to the New England Tournament in Boston. The latter was made possible by these sponsors, the Oriac Club, the American Legion and the Elks.

The cheerleaders should be given special credit for their excellent work, since they had no faculty adviser. They practiced and worked out their new cheers and routines. Their service to the school is truly appreciated.

National Honor Society

Scholarship, leadership, character, and service are the four requisites which a student must possess in order to become a member of the National Honor Society. Admission into this society is a great achievement and one toward which every conscientious student should strive.

On April 18, 1947, four seniors and four juniors were inducted into the National Honor Society in an impressive ceremony. Seniors, Lorraine Bleickhardt, Theodore Corsones, Thomas Rooney, and William Wild, and juniors, George Ackley, Mary Jean Burr, Joan McKerley, Joan Mintzer, were the recipients of this high honor—the highest attainable in Rutland High School.

During the school year the "old" members, president Larry Duval, vice president Audrey Perkins, secretary Donald Sherburne, and treasurer, Judith Andrews carried on the main work of the society, that of selling candy at football and basketball games. In addition, they had the privilege of being able to inaugurate a new chapter of the National Honor Society at Brandon High School, and to induct its first members.

Mrs. Mabel Morrill and Miss Dorothy Wimett, the faculty advisers, worked with and guided the members of the society during the year.

Monitor Squad

Under the direction of Miss Moran, faculty adviser, and Miss Moore, assistant faculty adviser, the Monitor Squad of 1947 conducted traffic regularly and efficiently throughout the school year. They insured against possible accidents and saw that passing to and from classes was done smoothly and as noiselessly as possible.

Richard Paul and Tom Rooney served as chiefs of the squad and Charlotte Smith as secretary-treasurer. All carried out their duties faithfully, and, in addition, were responsible, along with the rest of the Monitors, for the success of the Harvest Dance, whose decorations followed the pattern suggested by a harvest. Also, the Monitors sponsored a movie at a school assembly, which proved interesting as well as lucrative.

All through the year, the Monitors served their job well and cheerfully as vital members of the high school's functioning. They met the heavy responsibility which rested upon them with capability and interest.

 Fifth row: Charles Wiley, Paul Stevens, Robert Rogers, Calvin Atwood.

Mimes

Theater-minded boys and girls, under the direction of Mrs. L. Mabel Morrill, enjoyed a full and busy year in the Mimes Club. "Graduates" from Junior Mimes, plus all juniors and seniors who were interested in drama, constituted this year's organization. They elected as their leaders: Judith Andrews, president; Marilyn Carlisle, vice president; Joan Mintzer, secretary; Darleyne Hart, treasurer; and Charlotte Smith, program chairman.

Every meeting was devoted to some activity connected with the theater; make-up demonstrations; excerpts from, and one-act, plays; talks by the members on some phase of acting; and discussions of current articles and pictures dealing with drama. Additionally, several demonstrations on the "right way" to act were given.

Two assembly plays were presented, one of which was "We Hold These Truths" put on in collaboration with Junior Mimes. Also, a children's play was shown to members of the grade schools and "The Hungerers" was entered in the State Play Contest.

Junior Mimes

Stage-struck freshmen and sophomores learned much about the theater during meetings of the Junior Mimes this year under the guidance of Mrs. Elizabeth B. Greene. They listened to talks concerning the history of the theater and viewed illustrative work, such as the various types of plays in existence. Additionally, actual work in acting was carried out, the results of which were a one-act play, "A Dog's Life," and "We Hold These Truths," the latter being staged with the Mimes Club in assembly.

Membership in Junior Mimes is a stepping stone to Mimes, the senior organization. Just as much work and interest is put into this club for less experienced drama students, though, as is evident in Mimes.

The officers responsible for the leadership of Junior Mimes this year were: Mary Jeffords, president; Jackie Daley, vice president; and Cynthia Taylor, secretary-treasurer.

 Second row: Marilyn Trop, Barbara Adams, Jean Collette, Patricia Chilos, Jacqueline Daly, Mary Jefford, Rachel Humeister.
 Third row: Olivene Seward, Mary Anna Bugbee, Evelyn Gleason, Betsy Smith, Georgia Moustakis, Patricia Mauer.

French Club

This year, under a new constitution, the French Club became known as "Le Cercle Francais." As their main project the members adopted a French orphan through the Save the Children Federation. The orphan, Jacques Cailloil, lives in Marseilles and like many other French children suffers from the scourge of war.

The club also sponsored an assembly at which Professor Claude Bourcier of Middlebury College presented slides showing present conditions in France.

The elected officers were:

President	CAROL COOK
Vice President	BARBARA FLANDERS
Secretary	BETTY STILLWELL
Treasurer	JOY FRISCH

Latin Club

The Latin Club held meetings twice monthly under the direction of Miss Buttles, new faculty adviser for the club. Its purposes for the promotion of knowledge and appreciation of Latin were carried out chiefly through its entertainment programs, which followed the business meetings. Plays and reports on Roman mythology and Roman life, Latin games, and songs sung in Latin made up the entertainment programs. One play was recorded, and the records were played to the club.

For the first time, the Latin Club was provided with a constitution. Upon petition of the club, the Student Council voted to award one point toward a non-athletic award to those who complete the year in accordance with the rules of the Latin Club. A poster contest, the entries based on Roman life and mythology, was conducted by the club.

The most important social events of the club year were the Christmas party and a sleigh ride.

The officers of the club were as follows:

President	WILLIAM WILD
Vice President	GERALDINE PHILLIPS
Secretary	JANE RUDIN
Treasurer	MARY JEAN BURR
Student Council Representative	LUCILLE PAIGE

Front row: Geraldine Phillips, Mary Jean Burr, William Wild, Jane Rudin.
 Second row: Peggy Westburg, Mary Anna Bugbee, Geraldine Wheeler, Marie Altrui, Carol Crossman, Mary Jane Anderson.
 Third row: Juliana Phillips, Barbara Adams, Lucille Paige, Patricia Hubbard, Carolyn Shedd, Robert Hesse, Marion Bryant.
 Fourth row: Miss Madeline Buttles, Faculty Adviser; Dona'd Lunt, Tilton Richards, Maurice Brewster, Tom Fagan, Robert Tuggey, Jean Johnson.

Science Club

The Science Club is a new organization this year. The purpose of the club is to further the study of science, chiefly through giving club members an opportunity to utilize the equipment which the school possesses. At club meetings, time was allowed for members to work on the projects which each chose during the year. Popular activities included dissection of animals, bacteria culture, and experiments in chemistry and physics.

Throughout the year, movies have been shown from time to time on subjects of scientific interest to those interested in science. Radio, television, general science, geography, and other topics of current interest were included in the movie program.

During the first year of its existence the club has become associated with The Science Clubs of America, a national organization.

The faculty adviser for this ambitious club is Mr. Russell D. Chase.

Its officers were:

President	JAMES WHITE
Vice President	ROBERT HATHAWAY
Secretary-Treasurer	MARY ELLEN SEWARD

Student Federalists

The Student Federalists organized for the first time at Rutland High School this year. The club was formed, using as a nucleus a group of students who had attended a summer conference where they learned of the Student Federalist Movement. Others interested in world affairs joined, and the group selected Miss Carolyn Allen to act as faculty adviser.

Immediately after forming, the club became a chapter of the national Student Federalist organization.

At the bi-weekly meetings of the club, attempts were made to promote a greater interest in and knowledge of current affairs. Discussion in which all club members participated was one of the methods used.

In order to bring to the student body some of the ideas of the club, the Student Federalists presented an assembly at which they featured Dr. Wing-sit Chan as speaker. His intimate knowledge of world situations, especially those pertaining to China, his own country, aroused a sympathy and interest in both Student Federalists and non-club members which no amount of reading material could. Dr. Chan's appearance was one of the highlights of the club year.

The club also helped sponsor a one-day conference for high school students, which was modeled on the plan of the Shawnee Institute on World Affairs.

As The Talisman went to press, Mary Jean Burr and William Wild demonstrated the aims of their organization at a meeting of the Rutland Community Club.

The officers of the organization were:

President	DONALD SHERBURNE
Vice President	CALVIN ATWOOD
Secretary	WILLIAM WILD
Treasurer	PHYLLIS PERKINS

Fourth row: Miss Carolyn Allen, Faculty Adviser; Joan McKerley, Elise Plude, Betty Stillwell, Darleyne Hart, Mary Jean Burr.
Fifth row: Donald Sherburne, Warren Bergstrom, Calvin Atwood, William Wild, Paul Hackel, Kenneth Erickson.

Front row: Joyce Fredette, Betty Holland, Barbara Dye, Joan Manley, Phyllis Perkins, Francis Rice, Mr. Russell Chase, Faculty Adviser.
Second row: Mary Beauchamp, Milah Dwight, John Markham, Paul Hackel, Alden Atwood, Benjamin Butterfield, Warren Bergstrom.

Camera Club

The Camera Club this year carried out an active program under the leadership of Warren Bergstrom and guidance of Mr. Russell Chase. At the beginning of the year, the fundamentals of photography from film to finished picture were studied.

Later, the members took pictures with their own cameras and these were developed and criticized. Work was also done with pinhole cameras, and portraits were taken of various members. In the spring, a hike was planned.

Officers of the club were:

President	WARREN BERGSTROM
Vice President	MARY BEAUCHAMP
Secretary-Treasurer	PHYLLIS PERKINS

Home Economics

This year a small but interested group carried on the Home Economics Club. Their adviser was Miss Vera A. Perkins. During the year the girls studied the fundamentals of grooming, and sewed, making clothes for themselves.

The club became affiliated with the state association, and Shirley Morris represented Vermont in a sub-regional conference held at Adelphi College, Garden City, Long Island in the spring.

Officers for the year were:

President	SHIRLEY MORRIS
Vice President	VIRGINIA SMITH
Secretary	LOIS CHADBURN
Treasurer	DORIS LIND

Jean Cutler, Shirley Morris, Virginia Smith, Miss Vera Perkins, Faculty Adviser; Betty Shappy, Marian Walker.

 Third row: Francis Rice, Edward Minard, Porter Noble, Darleyne Hart, Eugene Grippin, Barbara Rich, David Roe, Bruce Snyder, Lindley Squires, Bill Battles, Bob Howe, George Miller.
 Fourth row: Peter Kelly, Will Cady, Robert Tuggey, Audrey Perkins, Rosemary Flanders, Kenena Hansen, Paul Tomlison, Roy Donahue, Lionel DeBlois, Gerald Minard, John LaBrake, Cynthia Sullivan, Shirley Smith, Beverly Reed, Alvin Edson, Robert Noble.

Band

The band, following in its own footsteps, has again completed another successful year.

Under the direction of Mr. George Low, its accomplishments have been many and varied.

This fall, at home football games, the band, led by its snappy majorettes, has performed to perfection. Its music has been welcomed as a part of school assemblies. The band has willingly performed for the Parent-Teacher Organization and has gladly done its share of parading.

Its proudest achievements are considered to be its spring concert and its participation in the State Music Festival at Burlington.

Orchestra

This year, the orchestra, under the direction of Mr. George Low, was very active. The group of thirty played at a music assembly, the senior play, Community Club, P. T. A. Founder's Day meeting, and for the Mimes play, "Curse You, Jack Dalton!"

In April, the orchestra and chorus combined to give a concert, which was well received by the public.

The climax of the season came with the trip to the Vermont Music Festival at Burlington, where the orchestra made a very good appearance, playing themes from Rachmaninoff's "Concerto No. 2 in C Minor," "Stardust," and a movement of Beethoven's "Fifth Symphony." Several members also played in the All-State Orchestra.

Front row: Robert Howe, Richard Martin, Roy Plumley, Mary Blais, Phyllis Mack, Carol Raymond, Geraldine Wheeler, Kenena Hansen, James White, Alvin Edson, Wendell Davis.

Boys' and Girls' Chorus

The Mixed Chorus, composed of fifty boys and girls, directed by Mr. Low, has completed a very successful year.

At Christmas, they presented a musical program for the school and also broadcasted it over the radio. The chorus rendition of "'Twas the Night before Christmas," featuring several soloists will not soon be forgotten.

The chorus made numerous appearances during the year at assemblies, Community Club, and P. T. A.

On April 17, the chorus combined with the orchestra to present a concert, which was received by a large and appreciative audience. Selections from this concert were also given over the radio.

In May came the annual State Music Festival, in which our chorus participated. Nineteen of the members were chosen for the All-State Chorus.

Commuters' Club

Under the supervision of Mr. Henry Doll and Miss Vera Perkins, Commuters' Club, one of the largest in the school, carried out an extensive program to furnish entertainment for students who eat in the cafeteria.

A supervising committee consisting of Thomas Rooney, chairman, William Wild, Fern Gragen, Shirley Todriff, Martha Johnson, and John Markham, assisted in carrying out a program which provided dancing, ping-pong, shuffle board. As a new feature, the club sold candy at noon to raise money and occasionally distributed free candy, ice-cream, and apples to club members.

This year there was inaugurated an outdoor program providing softball, basketball, slug ball, horseshoes, and numerous other outdoor games.

Officers elected were: Lawrence Duval, president; Theodore Munsat, vice president; and Beverly Gibbs, secretary-treasurer.

 Second row: Joseph Davine, John Filippo, Hubert Hinds, Ted Munsat, George Ackley, Roy Plumley, Howard Nason, Lloyd Flaitz, Coach.

Football

The 1946 edition of the Rutland gridiron squad had only a mediocre record on paper, four wins, four losses and one tie, but actually they were a far better ball club than the scorebooks would indicate. The Raiders played the toughest opposition to be had, inside the state and outside, and two of their setbacks were by only a single point.

LLOYD FLAITZ, Coach

Top row: Duval, Smith, Hinds, Eaton, Kingsbury.

Bottom row: Davine, Captain Corsones, Captain-Elect Godnick, Belock.

Lloyd Flaitz, back after serving three years in the Navy, teamed up with Leo Keefe and did a remarkable job in whipping up such a formidable team from the young crew of hopefuls left after graduation took a good share of the key men who had sparked the undefeated State Champions of 1945.

In the first game of the year against Middlebury, the Redmen coasted in to an easy 13-0 victory and the next week invaded Whitehall, New York, where the two teams fought to a 6-6 tie. Returning home the Flaitzmen rode rough-shod over Montpelier 20-0 and then traveled to Springfield where they bowed 14-13 in a bitter battle that saw the lead change hands four times.

Moving north to Burlington for their fifth game, the Raiders trotted off the field with an 18-13 decision and the following week completely out-classed Bellows Falls 26-6 on the home turf. At this point in the campaign, the Rutland club had only one defeat in state circles and with only two more Vermont games left was considered as a top contender for State honors, but Brattleboro spoiled the picture the next week by dumping the Redmen 14-0.

Stevens High of Claremont, New Hampshire, hit town for a wet, muddy game that resulted in a 7-6 decision for the invaders, and then it was time for the annual city classic with Mount St. Joseph. The Mounties were loaded with size and experience, but before they won a 12-6 verdict, and the State Championship, the Raiders had forced them to go to the limit by refusing to slack up for an instant.

Captain, and outstanding player for the team was guard, Ted Corsones, who was elected Captain of the All-State Eleven. Ably assisting him on the line was end, Joe Davine, who also won a berth on All-State.

Additional linemen who anchored the forward wall were Tom Smith, Charley Brush, Winnie Goodspeed, "Rope" Chase, Bob Kingsbury, Jack Thompson, Ted Munsat, and Roy Plumley. Backfield mailcarriers for the Redmen were Larry Duval, second string All-State quarterback; Ed Godnick, second string All-State fullback; and Captain-Elect for next year, Hubie Hinds, Howie Nason, Tony Belock, George Ackley, and Dick Davidson.

Underclass Hockey Teams

Front row: Beverly Gould, Nancy Buckheim, Suzanne Davis, Annette Sharon, Patricia Dolan, Jean Short-sleeves, Jean Stevens, Dorothy Martel, Betty Mecier.
 Second row: Rosemary Flanders, Joan McKerley, Kenena Hansen, Alice Chellis, Lucille Paige, Jean Murray, Mary Bradder, Olivene Seward, Barbara Adams, Elise Plude, Joan Manley, Darleyne Hart, Jean Barrett.
 Third row: Margery Perkins, Anne Johnson, Shirley Morris, Janice Carlisle, Shirley Minard, Cathryn Tennien, Betty Ewing, Joan Mintzer, Claire LaCroix, Ramona Cook.

Field Hockey

This year, as in previous years, a goodly number of R. H. S. lassies responded to the zest of the autumn air and unearthed their hockey sticks in anticipation of their annual interclass tournament. The clack of the sticks and the excited shrieks of their wielders announced to anyone that hockey was in session.

The tournament, ably handled by the committee appointed by the Girls' Leaders Corps, was run off as consistently as the weather would allow and response was wholehearted by those really interested. All four classes were well represented, but the senior girls walked off with the laurels as a result of their defeating the other contenders for the crown. While the girls do not consider themselves especially skillful at the game, they do consider their experience in playing very valuable.

Seniors: Champions.
 Front row: Mary Smith, Charlotte Smith, Marilyn Carlisle, Esther Hale, Mary Beauchamp.
 Second row: Barbara Flanders, Marion Robinson, Geraldine Phillips, Marie Richards, Lorraine Bleickhardt.
 Third row: Joy Frisch, Joanne Buttles, Patricia Galarneau, Anne Preston.

Girls' Leaders Corps

The Girls' Leaders Corps, this year as in previous years, has attempted to formulate and carry out a program of athletic interests which would prove adequate to the demands of the girls.

The twenty members of the corps, united in their purpose, worked willingly and cooperatively to provide the successful program which was carried out. Thanks to their efforts, the girls enjoyed again this year, the thrill of competition and the glory of victory in their hockey, basketball, and softball tournaments.

The corps, led by its senior officers under the direction of its faculty adviser, can point with pride to its achievements.

 Second row: Marilyn Carlisle, Charlotte Smith, Claire LaCroix, Joan Mintzer.
 Third row: Anne Preston, Marion Robinson, Mary Smith, Darleyne Hart.
 Fourth row: Audrey Perkins, Joy Frisch, Geraldine Phillips.
 Fifth row: Miss Constance Ruocco, Faculty Adviser; Barbara Flanders, Esther Hale, Virginia Smith, Judith Andrews, Lorraine Bleickhardt.

Girls' Class Basketball

Girls' basketball enjoyed a short-lived, but nevertheless important season this year. Competition was interclass and playing was limited, but the girls derived the satisfaction of having some basketball. On an interclass basis, the finest players made up the teams, and skill and form in playing were not lacking. Once again the senior girls won and walked off with the title, their second in two major sports this year. The surprising element of the basketball program was a strong freshman team which had all the ear-marks of victory until matched against the seniors. Once again the Leaders Corps is lauded for the fine management of the basketball tournament.

Boys' Homeroom Basketball

A fast-stepping, sharp-shooting Junior Quintet from Room 203 copped top honors in the annual Boys' Homeroom Basketball Tournament. The combination of Grace, Goodspeed, Godnick, LaBrake, and Franzoni was easily superior to anything the other rooms had to offer and won the crown for the second time, the same group having taken the laurels a year ago as sophomores.

Room 203 came out on top by edging the freshmen of Room 217 in the school finals. The Frosh had a scrappy five and surprised everyone by knocking off the highly-rated sophomores of Room 115 in the semi-finals. The seniors made a rather poor showing this year and their representatives from Room 102 were easily set down by the juniors, champions in the semi-finals.

 Third row: Porter Noble, Bob Kingsbury, Donald Sherburne, Bill Bidgood, David Roe, Hubert Hinds, Richard Davidson.

Varsity Club

The Varsity Club was composed of thirty-eight members this year. This athletic organization is made up of Varsity lettermen who have the necessary qualifications.

Members who previously belonged to the club were Ted Corsones, Larry Duval, Johnny Ferraro, Don Johnson, Jack Kelly, Hubie Hinds, Dick Laird, Bob Kingsbury, Tom Smith, and Bill Wild, seniors; and Ed Godnick, Howard Nason, Ted Munsat, Guy Chase, Norman Lash and Joe Davine, juniors.

Anthony Belock, Paul Kotuby, Wendell Davis, Robert Eaton, Charles Brush, Don Sherburne, and William Bidgood were new members from the senior class.

New juniors were Dick Davidson, Jack Thompson, George Ackley, Dick Knipes and George Taylor. Roy Plumley and David Roe from the sophomore class were admitted to membership in the club.

Veterans who were members were Richard Hamilton, Frank Belock, Hugh Weir, Earl Fredette, Warren Hoadley, Elio Filippo, Guy Chase, and John Ferraro.

The club again sponsored the annual Rutland High School Invitation Basketball Tournament for high school freshmen and sophomores. It also was a co-sponsor with the Student Council of several successful after-game dances during the basketball season.

This year's goal was to equip the Coaches' Room with a "Whirl Pool" bath for injured players. They plan also to construct a trophy case for which the 1942 Varsity Club appropriated $150.

The officers were Tom Smith, president; Ted Munsat, vice president; and Howard Nason, secretary-treasurer.

Boys' Leaders Corps

The Boys' Leaders Corps this year was under the direction of Mr. Clarence Bugbee, Director of Physical Education.

The group which was not organized as a club was comprised of boys who became assistant class leaders, squad and assistant squad leaders of the different gym classes.

First row: Richard Martin, Roy Donahue, Jack Schremley, George Miller.
 Second row: George Peck, Donald Perkins, John Edgerton, Bill Battles, Bob Perkins.
 Third row: Lester White, Miles Jenney, Bill Smith, Donald Johnson, Jim Vennett.

Front row: Gilbert Young, John Churchill, Bert Crossman, "Little Bundsie" Keefe, Ted Munsat, Harold Seward, John Baldwin.

Jayvee Basketball

This year's Jayvee Basketball Squad served notice that Rutland High School is going to be up at the top of the hoop heap in years to come as it hung up fourteen wins against five losses. Under the watchful eye of Coach "Dido" Flaitz, the boys developed rapidly and after several early season setbacks, emerged as a smooth-working aggression that went on to win the co-championship of the Southern Vermont League with a twelve and one record.

Bob Willson and David Roe were the big guns in the Rutland attack with a seasonal total of 163 and 153 points respectively. Vennett and Crossman were the other offensive threats while Newton, Munsat and Clifford were the mainstays on defense.

Freshman Basketball

The fundamentals make the game, and under the watchful supervision of Coach George Kalil, Rutland's freshman basketball squad has been absorbing the necessary know-how that will serve in good stead during the years ahead. Passing, ball handling, and floorwork have been emphasized, thus giving the boys a wide foundation in all aspects of the game. As a climax to the season, the first-year men were entered in two tournaments, and they did a creditable job of representing the school as they grabbed runner-up slot in both events.

 Third row: Sherman Hunt, Tilton Clifford, Donald MacPherson, Lindley Squires, Robert Sharrow.

 Second row: Hubert Hinds, David Roe, Bill Grace, Dick Davidson, Winslow Goodspeed.
 Third row: Bob Eaton, Coach Leo Keefe, Tom Smith.

Varsity Basketball

The 1946-47 basketball season will be remembered as one of the big events in the sporting history of R. H. S. The combination of Davine, Laird, Ferraro, Corsones and Brush became a byword known to, and marveled at, by every hoop fan in the state, as the "Big Five" ground out victory after victory and became the first quintet ever to be undefeated in Vermont competition. The Raiders also set another record by winning all of their first twenty-one games, which included the whole Southern Vermont League schedule plus three games with highly rated out of the state teams. After the final smoke of battle had cleared, the Redmen held a twenty-five and two seasonal record, including play in two tournaments.

Coach "Bundsie" Keefe started his boys off slowly and emphasized defense during the first part of the season. As the campaign progressed, the Raiders uncorked a three pronged fast break that completely outclassed their opponents and left no doubt as to their decisive superiority.

The Keefemen had a terrific scoring punch in Davine, Laird, and Ferraro that was impossible to stop. All three were capable of having a hot night and each went out and garnered over twenty points in a single contest. At least one was bound to be hitting each game and when they all got on the bandwagon at once, it was beautiful to see.

The floorwork and playmaking of Captain Johnny Ferraro sparked the team. Besides setting up his mates, Johnny was deadly on fast, tricky shots under the basket, and he exasperated a good many opponents. Rangy Dick Laird was high scorer for the Redmen with 329 markers. Dick specialized in rebound tap shots and near the end of the season perfected a shoulder protected pivot shot that split the meshes a good many times. Joe Davine was close behind with 323 counters. Joe was the set-shot artist of the club and also a hard rebounder who followed up his shots. None of the boys were outstandingly high scorers, but they had the unselfish knack of teamwork that brought the squad to the top.

The whole team was a smooth-working defensive unit, but outstanding in the backcourt were Ted Corsones and Charlie Brush. These boys were aggressive all the way, especially savage rebounders, and also exceptional ball handlers that fitted in very well with the Keefe style of play.

Chief reserves for the Raiders were Dick Davidson, Captain-elect for next year and Bill Grace. These boys were invaluable when it became necessary to spell the regulars and were greatly responsible for the successful season. Dave Roe, Bob Willson and Hubie Hinds completed the squad's roster and played in enough games to secure their letters.

Managers and Assistant Managers
 Second row: Robert Eaton, Tom Smith.
 First row: James White, Dudley North, Floyd Pen-
 nett.

Coach LEO F. KEEFE

 Second row: Robert Steele, Robert Priest, Robert Howe, Robert Beauchamp, John Gleason, Robert Rogers, Paul Kotuby, Peter Kelley, Tilton Richards, Robert Herrick.

Track

The 1947 edition of Howard Douglas' cinder squad is the best to represent R. H. S. in several years. The Tracksters have easily won their three meets in state competition, downing Springfield 67-50, Burlington 73-44, and Lyndon 66½-50½. They suffered their only setback in a triangular affair at Keene, N. H. when the Raiders' 28¼ points were second best to Keene's total of 73¼.

Leading point-getters in the running events are Don Sherburne and Don Cheney in the sprints, milers Bob Kingsbury and Bill Bidgood, and hurdlers Jim Vennett, Richard Roe and David Roe. In the weight department Bob Willson, Harold Seward, Dick Knipes, Wendell Davis, Irving Shappy and Pete Kelly do the muscle work. Dick Laird and George Pike do the high jumping for the team; Paul Kotuby and David Roe soar in the pole vault; and Don Sherburne is the broad jumper.

Climaxing its undefeated season in Vermont competition, the track team became Vermont's Interscholastic Track and Field Champions at Lyndon on May thirty-first. Don Sherburne, Bob Kingsbury and Richard Roe won five first places.

This yearbook was digitized by volunteers from the

 Second row: Donald Peer, Richard Clifford, Howard Nason, Robert Sharrow, James Guild, Dudley North, Robert Kellogg, Roy Plumley.

Baseball

"Building for next year" was the word with the 1947 diamond crew. Graduation took a heavy toll from last season's championship team, and Coach Lloyd Flaitz wisely decided to concentrate on the lower classes with an eye to the future. As the Talisman went to press, the standing of the Raiders in the Rutland County League was third place with three wins and two setbacks.

Five veterans who were lost to the team this June are Honorary Captain Dick Laird, Joe Davine, Larry Duval, Tom Smith, and Bob Seager. Coming up for service next year will be Dick Clifford, Howie Nason, Bill Grace, Dick Davidson, George Ackley, "Rip" Kellogg and Bill Thomas and three members of the freshman class, Guild, Warner and Sharrow. With this experienced group back as a nucleus, the Raiders will have only to find a catcher, first baseman, and a pitcher to spell Guild.

Richard Martin, George Peck, Ralph Welch, Mr. Thomas White, Coach.

Ski Club

The Ski Club was organized early in the school year. The team participated in the State Meet at Mt. Mansfield near Stowe, Vermont and later at Lyndonville, Vermont. The members entered the downhill, slalom, cross-country and jumping contests. Mr. Thomas White served as coach of the group.

Class Song

PAT GALARNEAU

Farewell to joys of R. H. S.
And all good times within we've had,
Our mem'ries dear we'll always have,
But still we leave a little sad.

Yet~~~

Above these things we've known and done,
Our friendships shall endure,
For they like stars can n'er be dimmed,
Their presence is secure—
Our friends have shared our hopes and dreams,
Together we have found,
That one has priceless treasure,
When there is a friend around!

And so tonight we look about,
At each dear pal we've known,
And say to them——
Just—"Thank you friend,"
For truth and happiness.

So now our class bids fond adieu,
Though journey we in distant lands,
We'll hold our friendships near and true,
We'll touch the stars with hopeful hands!

Scales

Scales for Every Weighing Purpose

Weighing-thru the Ages

"And I beheld, and Lo, a black horse; and he that sat on him had a pair of balances in his hand."

Rev. 6:5

* * *

This is the last Biblical reference to the balance as a weighing device. Students who have made extensive research on the subject find that reference is made to weights and measures 515 times; 430 times in the Old Testament, 85 times in the New Testament.

Scales

Scales for Every Weighing Purpose

Weighing-thru the Ages

Scales were used by the Egyptians 3000 years before our time.

The ancient Egyptians believed that the soul lived after the body had died. Their tombs therefore were equipped with things needed by the "soul" to enjoy life after death. Models of scales were included.

* * *

Religious significance was also attached to the scale. The gods were supposed to weigh the good deeds of the deceased against his or her misdeeds.
